PART FIVE

ELECTION SYSTEM

CHAPTER I

ELECTION SYSTEM FOR THE ASSEMBLY

Article 65

Composition of the Assembly

[†] Added by Law no. 9341, dated 10 January 2005 (article 54)

* Added by Law no. 9341, dated 10 January 2005 (article 43)

The Assembly of the Republic of Albania is composed of 140 deputies, of whom 100 are elected directly by the voters in single-member electoral zones and 40 are elected according to the proportional percentage of the votes won by the multi-name lists of electoral subjects deposited with the CEC.

Article 66

Election of Deputies in Single-Member Zones

1. The candidate who wins the largest number of valid votes of the voters who have taken part in the voting in a single-member zone is considered elected the deputy of that zone to the Assembly.

2. When two or more candidates win an equal number of votes, a drawing of lots is organized to decide the winning candidate. The drawing is organized by the CEC, in a public session with the participation of the candidates. The rules of the drawing are determined by the CEC.

Article 67

Allocation of Supplemental Mandates

Forty supplemental seats are allocated to political parties and coalitions of parties, in accordance with the results only of the voting conducted on election day and according to the following rules:

a) Parties that win less than 2.5 percent and coalitions that win less than 4 percent of the valid votes in the whole country do not benefit from supplemental seats. In order to establish the percentage of a coalition that submits a composed multi-name list, the total number of valid votes of the coalition is determined by summing up the votes obtained separately by each party or coalition in the proportional voting section of the ballot paper.

b) The number of valid votes won by each party or coalition meeting the respective threshold is divided by the sum of valid votes they have obtained in the whole country, and the result is multiplied by 140. Each of these parties or coalitions is allocated initially a general number of seats equal to the whole number obtained by the above-mentioned calculation. The remaining seats are allocated to the subjects with the largest remainders. In case the remainders for the last seat are equal, lots are drawn.

c) In order to determine the number of supplemental seats to be allocated to each party or coalition, the number of seats won in single-member zones is deducted from the number of seats allocated to each party or coalition according to letter (b) of this article. If the difference is negative or zero, the respective party or coalition keeps only the seats won in single-member zones.

ç) Notwithstanding letter (b), if:

- i) independent candidates are elected in one or more single-member zones;
- ii) parties or coalitions that do not meet the respective threshold win seats in one or more single-member zones; or
- iii) parties or coalitions that meet the respective threshold win more seats in single-member zones than they are entitled to on the basis of letter (b), then the following formula applies to the allocation of supplemental seats to parties or coalitions for which the difference according to letter (c) is positive:

$N = (A - B) [40 / (40 + C)]$, where N is the number of supplemental seats gained by each party or coalition, A is the number of seats allocated to each party or coalition according to letter (b), B is the number of seats they won in single-member zones, and C is the total number of seats won according to points (i), (ii), and (iii) of this letter (in the case of point iii, only the excess is added). Each of these parties and coalitions is allocated initially as many seats as the whole number obtained by this calculation. The seats that remain are allocated to the subjects with the largest remainders, in descending order. In case the remainders for the last seat are equal, lots are drawn.

d) Deputies are elected from the multi-name lists of parties or party coalitions according to their respective order;

dh) If the number of candidates on a multi-name list of a political party or coalition is smaller than the number of seats to which that party or coalition is entitled according to this article, the unfilled seats are divided among the other parties and coalitions of parties that exceed the respective threshold in accordance with the following formula:

The number of valid votes won by each of the above parties or coalitions is divided by the total of the valid votes won by them, and the result is multiplied by the number of unfilled seats. A number of supplemental seats equal to the whole number that results from the above calculation is initially allocated to each of these parties or coalitions. The seats that remain are allocated to the parties or coalitions with the largest decimal remainders. If the decimal remainders for the last seat are equal, lots are drawn.

Article 68

Allocation of Supplemental Mandates to the Parties and Coalitions with Composed Multi-name List

After the calculation of the number of supplemental mandates that a coalition with composed multi-name lists obtains according to article 67 of this Code, the supplemental mandates for each member party of the coalition are allocated in the following manner:*

a) The number of the valid votes won by each coalition member party is divided by the sum of the valid votes obtained on the national level by the parties and coalitions that reach the respective threshold and the result is multiplied by 140. The result is multiplied by the ratio of the number of seats obtained by the coalition according to the calculations prescribed in article 67, to the number of seats that the coalition could win according to the calculation prescribed in article 67 section 1, letter (b). Each of the parties participating in a coalition is initially allocated a general number of seats equal to the whole number obtained by the calculation above. The remaining seats, up to the number of seats won by the coalition, are allocated to the participating parties with the largest decimal remainders. In case the remainders for the last mandate are equal, lots are drawn;

b) In order to determine the number of supplemental seats obtained by each coalition party, the number of seats in single-member zone won by each of these parties is deducted from the number of seats allocated to the parties according to letter (a) of this article. If the difference is negative or zero, the respective party does not benefit from the allocation of supplemental mandates.

c) If coalition member parties win more seats in single-member zones than they are entitled to on the basis of letter (a), then the allocation of the supplemental seats to coalition member parties for which the difference according to letter (b) is positive, is made according to the following formula:

$N = (A - B) K / D$; where:

N is the number of supplemental seats that the party receives; A is the number of seats allocated to the party according to letter (a); B is the number of seats won by them in single-

* The title and the first paragraph of this article are amended by the Law no. 9341, dated 10 January 2005 (article 55) member zones; K is the number of the supplemental seats the coalition receives according to article 67; D is the sum of the positive differences calculated according to letter (b);

ç) Each of these parties is allocated initially a number of seats equal to the full number obtained through the above-mentioned calculation. The remaining seats, up to the completion of the number of seats allocated to the coalition during the allocation of the supplemental mandates, are allocated to these parties according to the largest decimal remainders. In case the remainders for the last seat are equal, lots are drawn.

Article 76
The System of Local Elections

1. The mayors of the municipalities or communes, as well as members of the councils of municipalities or communes, are elected by direct votes by the voters with a domicile in the territory of the municipality or commune.

Article 77
Election of Local Government Organs

1. The candidate who obtains the largest number of valid votes of the voters of a local unit is elected mayor of the respective municipality or commune.

2. When two or more candidates obtain an equal number of votes, lots are drawn between the respective candidates. The drawing is organized by the CEC in a public session with the participation of the candidates. The rules of the drawing are determined by the CEC.

3. The seats on the local councils are allocated by the LGEC on the basis of the following proportional system:

a) The number of valid votes won by each independent candidate is divided by the total number of valid votes and multiplied by the number of seats of the council. If the result is equal to or higher than 1, the independent candidate wins a seat on the council.

b) The number of valid votes won by every party or coalition, as well as by every independent candidate who failed to obtain a seat according to this section of this article is divided by the sum of valid votes they have obtained, and the result is multiplied by the number of seats that remain after letter (a) of this article has been applied. Each of these electoral subjects wins a number of seats equal to the whole number obtained from the above-mentioned calculation. If for an independent candidate the result is one or greater than one, the independent candidate wins only one seat. The remaining seats are allocated to the electoral subjects with the largest decimal remainders. In case the remainders for the last seat are equal, lots are drawn;

c) The candidates of parties or coalitions are elected to the local councils according to the order of the respective multi-name list.

ç) In case the number of candidates on a multi-name list of a party or coalition is smaller than the number of seats to which that party or coalition is entitled according to this article, the unfilled seats are divided among the other parties and coalitions of parties that have submitted multi-name lists in accordance with the following formula:

The number of valid votes won by each of the above parties or coalitions is divided by the total of the valid votes won by them, and the result is multiplied by the number of unfilled seats. A number of additional seats equal to the whole number resulting from the above calculation is initially allocated to each of these parties or coalitions. The seats that remain are allocated to the parties or coalitions with the largest decimal remainders. If the decimal remainders for the last seat are equal, lots are drawn.

When the coalition is composed of parties that have decided to appear separately on the ballot paper, it submits a composed multi-name list, which comprises individual lists of the coalition member parties, whereas, when the coalition runs as a single subject, it submits a joint multi-name list. The list must be supported by the signatures of 10,000 voters registered in the preliminary voter lists. The coalition is exempted from the obligation for signatures contemplated in this article of the Code, if its member parties hold jointly in the Assembly no fewer seats than the number of member parties. For the purposes of this Code, the coalition submits written statements signed by the elected persons, declaring that they are members of the political parties in the coalition.

4. When there is an agreement of the electoral subject on the final ranking of multi-name list candidates, it is deposited together with the multi-name list. The agreement is implemented directly by the CEC when it contains:

* Abrogated by Law no. 9341, dated 10 January 2005 (article 57)

The list is accompanied by a declaration signed by each candidate stating that he is eligible to vote, desires to run and accepts the ranking on the list. The list must be accompanied for each candidate by the documentation contemplated by article 79, section 2, letters (a) and (b) of this Code.

Article 85 Acceptance of the Lists

When political parties or coalitions submit a list of fewer than 20 candidates, the list is not accepted by the CEC. If the individual lists of the parties of a coalition presenting a composed list have fewer than 10 candidates each, the composed multi-name list is not accepted by the CEC.

CHAPTER II

VOTING CENTRES AND POLLING UNITS

Article 94*

Establishing a Polling Unit

1. The existing boundaries of a polling unit are also retained for the succeeding elections, except when a change is necessary as a result of the failure to meet the requirements provided by section 2 of this article.

2. The polling unit should be located within a compact territory that is not detached geographically and the number of voters for each voting centre should not be less than 100 nor greater than 1000 voters, except in cases provided in article 63, section 1, of this Code.

3. The mayor of the local government unit, no later than the time limit provided in section 3 of article 55 of this Code, if:

a) a polling unit has more than 1000 voters, decides to establish an additional voting centre within the same polling unit. The mayor of the respective local government unit, in applying the instructions issued by the Minister of the Local Government and Decentralisation, divides the voter list into two parts with an approximately equal number of voters. In this case, the new voting centre is to be established, when possible, in the same building as the existing voting centre and is numbered according to the unique national system of numbering voting centres;

b) a polling unit has fewer than 100 voters, decides that it is to be attached to the nearest polling unit with road access possibilities. As a rule the voters are to live not farther than 5 km from the new voting centre.

If it is not possible to meet both of the above criteria, then the criterion of the minimal number of voters prevails. The number of the suppressed voting centre is suspended and this suspension does not affect the existing numbering of the other voting centres.

4. The location of the voting centre will be established at the same address as in the previous elections, except when this for objective reasons is not possible.

5. For the municipality of Tirana, the responsibilities specified in this article are exercised by the mayors of municipal units.

As a rule, the Ballot Counting Centre is designated to be in large rooms or in gymnasiums. The centres for ballot counting are made available for use by ZECs and LGECs no later than 10 days prior to the date of the elections. The ZEC or LGEC, no later than 5 days before the date of the elections, is to invite the electoral subjects and the VCC members to get to know the Ballot Counting Centre.

Article 95/1[†]

Preparation of the Ballot Counting Centre

For this purpose, the ZEC or the LGEC arranges work tables for each counting team, ensuring that they have sufficient space for conducting the process of counting the ballots. The work tables are arranged in such a way that they are visible for the ZEC and LGEC members, as well as for the observers, candidates or media representatives. Observers are to remain in front of the counting teams at a short distance from the working table, but at such a distance that they do not have physical contact with the voting materials. The Chairman, Deputy Chairman, the members, and the secretary of the counting teams are appointed according to the procedures and criteria specified for the ZECs or, as appropriate, LGECs. The Chairman of the first counting team is appointed on the proposal of the political subject that has proposed the Deputy Chairman of the ZEC or LGEC and afterwards the Chairman of the second counting team is appointed on the proposal of the political subject that has proposed the Chairman of the ZEC or LGEC, and this alternation continues for the other counting teams.

2. If any of the electoral subjects fails to present a proposal within this time limit, the ZEC or LGEC appoints the replacement members by drawing a lot among the VCC members who belong to this electoral subject at the electoral unit level.

After all the data are recorded in the Record of the Closing of the Polls, the exact time of closing the official records is noted. The original of the Record of the Closing of the Polls is placed in the Voting Materials Box, which is sealed immediately with the respective security codes. Receipt of Voting Materials by the ZEC or LGEC

1. The ZEC or LGEC assigns one or more receiving teams with no fewer than two of its members each to receive the ballot boxes with the ballot papers and the boxes with voting materials. The ballot boxes with the ballot papers and the boxes with voting materials are to be received as soon as they arrive at the Ballot Counting Centre, according to the rules established by the ZEC or LGEC.

2. During the receiving process, the receiving teams:

a) record in the Official Records of Receipt the numbers of the security codes of the seals that close the ballot box with the ballot papers and the box with voting materials;

b) verify immediately whether the numbers of the security codes of the seals that seal the ballot box with the ballot papers and the box with the voting materials match the numbers of the security codes according to the record kept for this voting centre in compliance with article 93/1. If the codes do not match, the receiving team informs the ZEC or LGEC about the discrepancy in numbers and requests that it mark the box "IRREGULAR BOX". The ZEC or LGEC verifies the discrepancy immediately and makes a decision in accordance with section 4 of this article. The discrepancies found are recorded in the Official Records of Receipt and the Records Book of ZEC or LGEC Meetings.

3. When while receiving the ballot boxes with the ballot papers and the box with the voting materials, the receiving team finds that:

a) one or more seals with security codes are missing or broken;

b) the seals with the security codes are placed in a way that allows space between the box itself and its lid;

c) the box has fissures or cracks in its body or lid that make it possible to insert or retrieve ballot papers or other voting materials; or

ç) the box is of a different type, shape or size from those established by the CEC; then the receiving team informs immediately the ZEC or LGEC about the irregularity and requests that it mark the box "IRREGULAR BOX". The ZEC or LGEC verifies immediately the irregularity and makes a decision according to section 4 of this article. The irregularity found is recorded in the Official Records of Receipt and the Records Book of ZEC or LGEC Meetings.

4. When irregularities are found by the receiving teams according to section 2 or 3 of this article for one of the boxes with ballot papers, then that box is considered an IRREGULAR BOX and is sent to the corner of irregular boxes, while the box with the voting materials and the other box with the ballot papers is subject to procedures in accordance with articles 109/3 -109/6 of this Code. When both boxes with ballot papers are considered irregular, then both boxes with ballot papers and the respective box of voting materials are placed in the corner of irregular boxes. When only the box of voting materials is defined as an IRREGULAR BOX, it is subject to procedures according to article 109/3 along with the ballot boxes with the ballot papers.

The police officer shall leave immediately after receiving a copy of the records.

8. The Official Records of Receipt are prepared by the CEC as a template and shall contain the time of receipt, the number of the voting centre, of seals with the security codes that seal the boxes with the ballot papers and boxes of voting materials, space for describing the discrepancies or irregularities found, as well as a space for signatures.

This place shall be in the same premises where the counting takes place and must be secured from any interference by unauthorised persons.

Article 109/3[†]

Counting of the Ballots

1. The ZEC or LGEC is to make a decision to start the process of counting ballots only after having received all ballot boxes with the ballot papers and the boxes of voting materials from all the voting centres under its jurisdiction.

2. The Secretaries of the counting teams, in order according to their ordinal numbers, take from the stack of ballot boxes, the ballot boxes with the ballot papers inside and the respective box with the voting materials of only one voting centre and place them near the table of the respective Counting Team. Next, the secretary receives from the secretary of the ZEC or LGEC the sample for comparing the stamp of the Chairman of the VCC, deposited in compliance with article 93/1 of this Code.

3. First, the Counting Team performs the verification procedure of the data in the Record of the Closing of the Polls. To perform this verification, the Counting Team proceeds as follows:

a) The Chairman of the Counting Team takes the Box with Voting Materials, places it on the table and opens it by breaking the seals with the security codes. The Record of the Closing of the Polls is taken out of the box and it is verified whether the following are found in the box:

- i) the UNUSED BALLOT PAPERS envelope along with the ballot stubs;
- ii) the SPOILED BALLOT PAPERS envelope;
- iii) the voter list;

[†] Added by Law no 9341, dated 10 January 2005 (article 80)

iv) the original copies of the decisions of the VCC as well as the unused templates for VCC decisions;

v) the seal of the VCC;

vi) the seal of the VCC Chairman;

vii) the seals with the unused security codes; viii) the seals with the damaged security codes; and

ix) the Records Book of VCC Meetings;

b) The Chairman of the Counting Team first compares the stamp of the VCC Chairman to the sample for comparison and presents his opinion to the members of the team;

c) The Chairman of the Counting Team counts the unused ballot papers and, at the conclusion of the counting, informs the Counting Team members of the figure. The Deputy Chairman compares the declared result with that recorded in the Record of the Closing of the Polls. If the figures do not correspond or if any of the members of the Counting Team request a recount, the Chairman is obliged to restart the counting of the unused ballot papers once again;

ç) The Chairman of the Counting Team counts the spoiled ballot papers and, at the conclusion of the counting, informs the Counting Team members of the result. The Deputy Chairman compares the declared result with that recorded in the Record of the Closing of the Polls. If the figures do not correspond or if any of the members of the Counting Team request a recount, the Chairman is obliged to restart the counting of the spoiled ballot papers once again;

d) The Chairman of the Counting Team counts the voters who have voted according to the signatures on the voter list and, at the conclusion of the count, informs the Counting Team members of the result. The Deputy Chairman verifies the declared result with that recorded in the Record of the Closing of the Polls. When the figures do not correspond or any of the members of the Counting Team request a recount, the Chairman is obliged to restart once again the counting of the voters who have voted;

dh) The Chairman of the Counting Team, based on a comparison of the verified figures, calculates and declares the number of the used ballot papers, which is the result of the difference between the total number of ballot papers according to the Record of the Closing of the Polls and the number of unused ballot papers. The Deputy Chairman verifies the declared result according to that recorded in the Record of the Closing of the Polls.

4. After the verification, the Chairman of the Counting Team closes the box of the Voting Materials with seals with security codes, leaving the Record of the Closing of the Polls outside the box. The Deputy Chairman records the numbers of the Codes in the Record of the Counting Team for Closing the Box with Voting Materials. The Box with Voting Materials is placed again near the table of the ZEC or LGEC.

5. Afterwards, the Chairman of the Counting Team places on the table the ballot box with the ballot papers for the candidates and opens it by breaking the seals with the security codes. The ballot box for the political parties and/or electoral coalitions is opened only after the counting and evaluation procedures have been completed and the ballot box with the ballot papers for the candidates has been closed. The Chairman and the Deputy Chairman of the Counting Team take out from the box the ballot papers and the envelope with the Record of Sealing according to article 97 of this Code, unfold the ballot papers and place them on the table with the reverse side of the sheet up. The stacked ballot papers are counted by the Chairman and the Deputy Chairman, who at the conclusion of the counting inform the Counting Team members of the result. They verify the declared figure against the figure that results from the difference between the number of used ballot papers and the number of spoiled ballot papers. If the figures do not correspond or if any of the members of the Counting Team requests a recount, the Chairman and the Deputy Chairman are obliged to restart the counting of the ballot papers once again.

6. If irregularities or inadequacies are found as a result of the verification conducted in accordance with this article, then the Counting Team or any of the members who identify these irregularities or inadequacies, notifies immediately the ZEC or the LGEC with regard to discrepancies. The notification is made by raising one's hand and without moving from one's place. Raising a hand suspends any further action of the Counting Team until the ZEC or the LGEC has been informed of the issue and verifies it. If the ZEC or the LGEC confirms the inadequacy or the irregularity, it will reflect it in the Record of Findings. Only after recording the inaccuracy or irregularity in the Record of Findings will the ZEC or LGEC make a decision for the Counting Team to continue the ballot counting procedures. The Counting Team is to be informed immediately about the decision of the ZEC or LGEC.

Article 109/4*

Types of Ballots and the Criteria for Evaluating a Ballot

1. Ballot papers are to be divided into valid and invalid ballots.
2. Only the ballot papers on which it clearly has been voted for only one of the candidates, or political parties or electoral coalitions, are valid ballots.
3. Ballot papers are invalid ballots when:
 - a) the ballot paper does not have the same size, colour or format as the ballot paper approved by the CEC;
 - b) the stamps contemplated in article 92 of this Code are missing on the reverse side;
 - c) they bear signs that may disclose the identity of the voter;
 - ç) they bear notes in favour or disfavour of certain electoral subjects;
 - d) there is a vote for more than one of the electoral subjects;
 - dh) no electoral subject is voted for;
 - e) it is not clear for whom the vote has been cast; or
 - ë) the voter has voted for a person who is not on the ballot.

Article 109/5*

Evaluation of Ballots

1. The evaluation of ballots begins immediately after the completion of the counting of ballot papers. The Chairman of the Counting Team unfolds completely every ballot paper and evaluates it aloud, while acting in this order:
 - a) he determines whether the ballot paper has the same size, shape and colour as the ballot paper approved by the CEC; if not, he assesses it as invalid;
 - b) he determines whether the reverse side of the ballot paper carries the stamp of the VCC and the stamp of the VCC Chairman; if not he assesses it as invalid;
 - c) he determines whether any of the other reasons for declaring the ballot invalid, as described in letters (c) to (h) of article 109/4 of this Code, exists; if one of these causes exists, he assesses the ballot as invalid.
2. If none of the circumstances described in section 1 of this article applies, the Chairman of the Counting Team gives his evaluation and then proposes that a collegial

* Added by Law no. 9341, dated 10 January 2005 (article 80)

* Added by Law no. 9341, dated 10 January 2005 (article 80) evaluation be given as to which candidate, political party or electoral coalition has been voted for. The Chairman shows the ballot papers one by one to each member of the Counting Team.

If all the members of the Counting Team agree with the Chairman's evaluation, the ballot paper is categorised according to the evaluation and the Chairman proceeds with the next ballot paper.

If any member of the Counting Team does not agree with the Chairman's evaluation, the Chairman or the objecting member immediately notifies the ZEC or LGEC about the objection. The notification is to be made by raising one's hand without leaving one's place. The raising of a hand suspends any further action of the Counting Team until the ZEC or LGEC has acquainted itself with the issue and made a decision on it. The Chairman of the ZEC or LGEC writes an ordinal number on the reverse side of the ballot paper, the nature of the problem, as well as the reasoning of the decision in a summarised manner. The number written on the ballot paper, the claim presented about it and the reasoning of the ZEC or LGEC decision are to be noted in the Records Book of ZEC or LGEC Meetings. Any member or observer may add his comments in the Records Book. The decision made by the ZEC or LGEC is made known immediately to the Counting Team, which enters the ballot paper as a ballot in the Tabulation of Results on the basis of the evaluation made by the ZEC or LGEC. After the tabulation of results by the Counting Team, these ballot papers are placed in the Envelope of Contested Ballots.

3. In accordance with the evaluation described in section 1 of this article, the ballot papers are to be divided on the working table into specific and separate places, grouped for each candidate, political party or electoral coalition, as well as for invalid ballots and contested ballots. In the case of coalitions with a composed list, the ballots for each member party of the coalition are grouped separately and near each other, thus identifying the ballots for each of the member parties of the coalition.

Tabulation of the Election Result by the Counting Team

1. After the counting and evaluation, according to articles 109/4 and 109/5 of this Code, for each box with ballot papers for the candidates, the Chairman counts the ballots for each candidate, starting according to the ranking order of the candidates on the ballot paper. After each count, he informs the Counting Team members of the figure. If any of the Counting Team members requests it, the Chairman is required to restart once again the count for that candidate. If there are still objections after this second count, the Chairman of the Counting Team or the objecting member informs the ZEC or LGEC by raising his hand. Raising a hand suspends any further action until a decision has been made by the ZEC or LGEC. The ZEC or LGEC counts on the spot the contested ballots for the candidate and orders the secretary of the Counting Team to record the figure decided by it in the table of results for that voting centre.

2. At the conclusion of the procedure established in section 1 of this article, the Chairman together with the Counting Team members completes the table of results for that voting centre according to the template prescribed by the CEC.

3. The original table of voting results according to section 2 of this article, including the contestations, if there are any, by any member of the Team, is to be delivered immediately in person to the ZEC by the secretary of the Counting Team. A copy of the table of results is given to each member of the Counting Team and to observers from parliamentary parties.

4. After the completion of the procedures established by sections 1, 2 and 3 of this article, the ballot papers for the candidates are enclosed in envelopes separated by candidate, while the invalid votes are enclosed in the envelope with the note "INVALID BALLOTS". The envelopes with the ballot papers for candidates, the envelope with the invalid ballot papers, the envelope with the contested ballot papers and the envelope with the Record of Sealing are enclosed in the ballot box. The box is sealed with seals with new security codes. The numbers of the codes are recorded in the table of results. After that, the box is placed again near the table of the Counting Team and the box with the ballot papers for the political parties and electoral coalitions is taken. For the ballot boxes with the ballot papers for the political parties or electoral coalitions, the Counting Team performs the same actions established by article 109/3, section 5, to article 109/6 of this Code.

5. Only after it has sent the processed boxes to the designated place inside the room of the Ballot Counting Centre and handed over to the ZEC or LGEC the respective table of results for the counted voting center does the Counting Team take the ballot boxes with the ballot papers and the voting material of the next voting centre from the stack of the ballot boxes.

Article 181*

Electoral Zones for the 2005 Parliamentary Elections

1. The division into electoral zones for the 2005 parliamentary elections is to be performed according to the following criteria:

a) the number of voters obtained by the combination of the data of the 2001 census published by the Institute of Statistics; the number of residents of Albanian nationality, including minors, according to the 2001 census; the number of voters registered on the voter lists of 2001 and 2003 and, if possible, the number of voters who participated in the elections in 2000, 2001 and 2003. No electoral zone may be subject to a deviation of more than 10 percent from the average number of voters on a national scale;

b) the continuity of the electoral zone. No electoral zone is not permitted to have discontinuity or intersection with other electoral zones;

c) the compactness of the electoral zone. No electoral zone is permitted to be interrupted by geographic barriers or divisions that are due to demographic or historical developments;

ç) indivisibility of the commune;

d) economic links and common traditional interests;

dh) good possibilities for communication within the electoral zone;

e) of the boundaries of regions. No electoral zone may extend geographically to two or more different regions.

2. The average number of voters per electoral zone is to be established by the division of the total number of voters, obtained according to first sentence of letter (a) of section 1 of this article, by the number of 100 electoral zones.

3. The electoral zones are to be established by law by the Assembly of the Republic of Albania. The Speaker of the Assembly presents to the Assembly the zone divisions in the form of a bill. The bill shall consist of:

a) the average number of voters for an electoral zone;

b) the number of voters for each zone, as well as the difference between this number and the average number of voters for each zone;

c) the map of each electoral zone;

ç) the list of local government units that are included in each zone; and

d) the description of the boundaries for each electoral zone.

4. The Assembly is to review and approve the bill on zone boundaries not later than 14 February 2005. The Assembly may not alter the proposed electoral zone boundaries.

ANNEX 1*

Based on article 145, section 1, the following formula will be used to determine the distribution of campaign funds among parties:

Definitions

D is the number of deputies of a party in the Assembly at the time of elections. For independent candidates D is 1.

K is the total number of municipal or communal council members of a party at the time of elections.

KP is the total number of municipal or communal council members who represent political parties (i.e., not independent members).

N is the number of parties meeting the requirements of article 145, section 1 (a), of this Code.

T is the total amount of funds available for the political campaign, not considering any additional funds as defined by article 143, section 4, of this Code

V_1 is the proportion of the vote obtained by a party in the previous elections for the same body, represented in a decimal form between 0 and 1.

V_2 is the proportion of the vote obtained by a party in the election, represented in a decimal form between 0 and 1.

Σ_1 is the total proportion of votes, represented in decimal form between 0 and 1, obtained in the previous elections for the same body by all parties that received over 2.5 percent of the votes.

Σ_2 is the total proportion of votes, represented in decimal form between 0 and 1, obtained in elections by all parties that received over 2.5 percent of the votes.

FA_1 is the total amount of funds granted to a particular political party prior to elections.

FA_x is an intermediate amount used in calculating a party's entitlement after elections.

FA_2 is the total funding to be given to a party on the basis of the election results.

FR is the total funding granted to a political party simply based on the registration of a specified number of candidates, according to Article 145, section 1 (a).

FP is the total funding allocated to a political party, or in the case of parliamentary elections, also to an independent candidate, as a result of representation of that party in the Assembly or in municipal/communal councils FV_1 is the total funding allocated to a political party prior to elections as a result of the vote that a party received in the previous elections. V_1 is represented in decimal form between 0 and 1.

E is the sum of funds received by parties prior to elections and it is not subject to redistribution since redistribution of these funds would require using FP and/or FR for that party; at the beginning of the calculations, E is set at 0.

R is the funding to be distributed to a party after the election in accordance with article 145, section 2 (b).

M is the funding to be collected from a party after the election in accordance with article 145, section 2 (c).

X is the number of independent deputies, who do not rerun in elections for any party, and of deputies from parties that do not run in the elections, if these deputies do not run for any other party.

* This Annex is approved by Law no. 9341, dated 10 January 2005

1. The following formula will be used to calculate the funds allocated prior to elections, according to article 145, section 1:

$$FA_1 = FR + FP + FV_1$$

$$FR = (0.1 * T / N)$$

For parliamentary election campaigns, $FP = (0.4 * T * D / 140)$

If there are independent deputies or parliamentary parties not rerunning in elections, $FP = (0.4 * T * D / (140 - X))$

For local government election campaigns, $FP = (0.4 * T * K / KP)$

For parties exceeding 2.5% of the vote in the previous elections, $FV_1 = (0.5 * T * V_1 / \Sigma_1)$

For parties having received less than 2.5% of the vote in the previous elections, $FV_1 = 0$.

2. In accordance with article 145, section 2, funds will be redistributed according to the following formulae:

a. Preliminary calculation of total funds to which a party is entitled after the election:

$$FA_x = V_2 * T / \Sigma_2$$

For parties having received less than 2.5% of the vote in the elections, $FA_x = 0$.

b. Calculation of final funds to which a party is entitled after elections (FA_2):

If $FA_x < FA_1$, and $FA_1 - FA_x \geq FV_1$, then $FA_2 = FP + FR$ and $FA_1 - FA_x - FV_1$ is added to E.

For all the other parties, the calculation is then made as follows:

$$FA_2 = FA_x * (T - E) / T$$

If, for a party, $FA_2 < FA_1$, and $FA_1 - FA_2 \geq FV_1$, then $FA_2 = FP + FR$ and $FA_1 - FA_2 - FV_1$ is added to E. FA_2 is then calculated for all parties, other than those already set at $FA_2 = FP + FR$. This cycle is repeated until $FA_1 - FA_2 \geq FV_1$ for all parties, or $FA_2 = FP + FR$ for those parties for which this does not apply.

c. In accordance with article 145, section 2, the following calculation will be used to determine funds to be redistributed to (R) to or collected from (M) political parties after elections:

If $FA_2 < FA_1$, then $R = 0$ and $M = FA_1 - FA_2$

If $FA_2 > FA_1$, then $M = 0$ and $R = FA_2 - FA_1$

If $FA_2 = FA_1$, then $R = 0$ and $M = 0$.
